The Cat Who Ate Spaghetti

By Jane M. Guthrie

There once was a cat named Puss,
Who loved to eat spaghetti, thus.
But instead of twirling it neat,
He'd slurp and scarf it down complete!

He'd chase the noodles round and round,
His whiskers twitching with a sound.

He'd leave a trail of sauce behind,
On table, floor, and window blind.

One day, his owner, Mrs. Jones,
Found Puss in quite a pickle, bones.
He'd eaten so much, he could barely breathe,
And his belly looked like Christmas Eve!

She laughed and gave him belly rubs,
"You silly cat, you're full of scrubs!"
From that day on, Puss ate less,
But never lost his love for that tasty mess.

The Cow Who Jumped Over the Moon

By an anonymous poet

Hey diddle diddle, the cow jumped over the moon,
The little dog laughed to see such fun,
And the dish ran away with the spoon,
Hey diddle diddle, the cow jumped over the moon.

The dish ran away with the spoon,
The spoon ran away with the knife,
The knife ran away with the fork,
The fork ran away with the dish.

All the king's horses and all the king's men,
Couldn't put Humpty Dumpty together again.

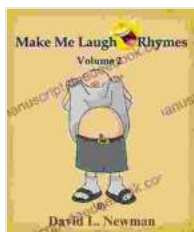

Humpty Dumpty sat on a wall,
Humpty Dumpty had a great fall.

All the king's horses and all the king's men,
Couldn't put Humpty Dumpty together again.
